THE PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Wow! My summer is really flying by! I can hardly believe that July and August are gone and here we are in the middle of September.

The big news item on the agenda is our upcoming fall meeting in October. We have accepted the very gracious invitation of the Associated Coin Clubs to meet during their Coin Show on Sunday, October 24th. The show will be held at the Victory Villa Community Hall located at Compass Road and Martin Blvd, Baltimore, MD, from 10:00 AM to 5:00 PM. To get there, take the Baltimore Beltway to Exit #35 at Route 40 East, and go east on Route 40 to Martin Blvd for approximately one mile. This intersection is just past the Golden Ring Shopping Mall. Turn right and go down Martin Blvd for about two miles to the first traffic light, which is Compass Road. Turn left and the Hall is on your left. MD TAMS will meet from 1:00 PM to 3:00 PM. Following our meeting, MSNA will hold its Annual Educational Seminar.

As requested by some of the members, we will have an auction at the meeting. Here are the basic rules we plan to follow:

1. A minimun bid must be established by the seller for each of his lots.
2. The seller cannot bid on his own lots.
3. A commission of 5% per lot up to a maximun of $1.00 will be levied on each lot sold with the proceeds going to the MD TAMS treasury.
4. A member is entitled to place a maximun of 15 lots in the auction. In the event that enough lots are not offered, the 15 lot limit per member shall be waived.

So don't forget! Bring some lots for the auction at the October meeting.

Those of you who read the Annual Report in the Summer, 1982, issue of the journal may have noticed that Editor Vernon Taylor announced that he does not plan to accept reappointment as Vice President-Communication for the 1983-1985 term. After chatting with Vernon and several members about an appointee for Vice President-Communications (Editor) it was the consensus that in order to have a smooth transition it would be better to have the new appointee named by the outgoing President instead of waiting for the new President to make the appointment. This would give the new appointee enough time to implement his new plans and produce his first issue on time. As the result of this, I found an excellent replacement. I am extremely pleased to announce that Jane and Russ Sears have agreed to take over this office. They will take over with the Summer 1983 issue or earlier if they so desire. Vernon's resignation will take affect coincident with Jane and Russ Sears desire to get started. Jane and Russ have been frequent contributors of quality articles to the journal and I am looking forward to their efforts as editors.

The completion of Volume III of the MD TAMS JOURNAL brings about our Annual Literary Award presentations for 1981-1982. These awards honor the authors who have contributed to the journal and who in the opinion of the judges have done an outstanding job in their literary efforts. Because of the difficulty in judging fairly those one-time articles versus those of a continuing nature, we have created two categories: Continuing Series and Self Contained Articles. Winners will be announced at the meeting in October.

Some of our members have been quite busy and successful on the exhibit circuit. At the MWNA show in New Carrollton, Greg Ruby and yours truly picked up a trophy. Greg continued his success along with Phil Greenslet at the GSNA show in New Jersey.

Say, if you are interested in running for one of the offices or working on a committee for next year, let me know. The way things are rolling by, April 1983 will be here before you know it.

Come join us at the October meeting on Sunday the 24th. See you there!

Will.

MARYLAND encased coins

by Joan Marie Taylor MD TAMS JC-27

In this issue, we add 16 more encased to our Maryland listing and are now past the half-way mark of showing the known pieces. I have only added one new piece to the list since the last article. If you know of any pieces not listed so far for the companies listed, I would like to know about them to add to the list. Likewise for the Baltimore and Ocean City souvenirs.

THE TROC PLEASURE PALACE TOKEN

39mm, brass

by RUSS SEARS and JANE SEARS
R-54 R-80

The Troc Pleasure Palace began using the illustrated token in 1976. It was ordered three times in quantities of 1000 each at a cost of 88 cents per piece. The token was used as an advertising promotional piece and in machines at the 400 East Baltimore Street location on Baltimore's famous Block.

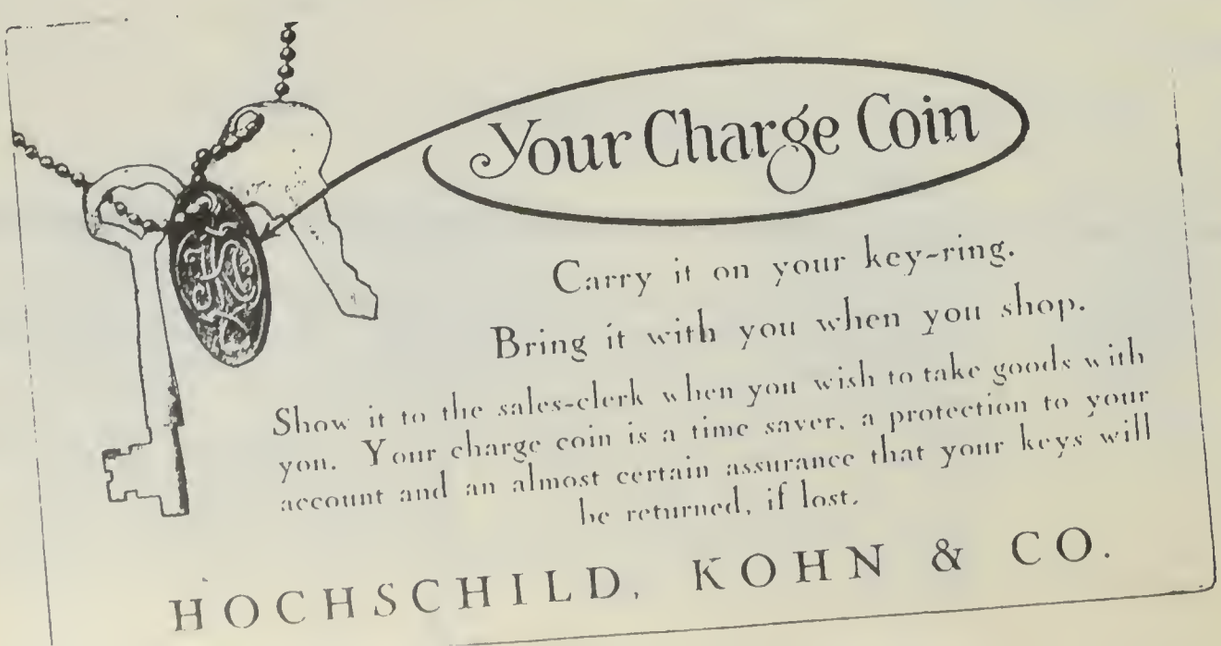
Sold and used for a value of one dollar each, the token was used in the "Dial-A-Doll" machine. After a show, the girls were scheduled at various times in one of two booths. The visitor was separated from the girl by a glass window covered by a curtain. When the visitor put his token or an Eisenhower dollar in the machine, the curtain opened allowing the visitor and the nude girl to see each other face-to-face. A telephone on each side of the glass allowed the visitor to talk to the girl.

Because of the size and weight of the token (and Eisenhower dollars), coin boxes filled up quickly resulting in jamming of the microswitch which caused the curtain to open and close. This problem continued until the introduction of the Susan B. Anthony dollar and a new token comparable in size. At that time, the old larger tokens were discontinued. It should be noted that the new token does not show the business name or location.

THE HOCHSCHILD, KOHN CHARGE TOKEN

By Russ Sears and Jane Sears
R-54 R-80

One of the more common Baltimore Charge Tokens is the piece from Hochschild, Kohn & Co. The advertising blotter pictured here shows the store's promotion of the token as both a charge token and lost key tag. It is interesting to note that we refer to the piece as a charge token while the store referred to it as a charge coin.



Your Charge Coin
Carry it on your key-ring.
Bring it with you when you shop.
Show it to the sales-clerk when you wish to take goods with you. Your charge coin is a time saver, a protection to your account and an almost certain assurance that your keys will be returned, if lost.

MARYLAND CHARGE COINS

BY
DOROTHY A. HAJEK
MD TAMS C-17

A continuing study of Charge Coins used in the State of Maryland.

The plastic credit cards of today , used with reckless abandon in our "money-less society" today, were preceded by metallic charge cards or coins which probably originated during the 1930's. These metallic charge cards were first cousins to the early key checks and modern day key tags. Like the key tags of today, metallic charge cards were registered with an associated number which appeared on the card as a simple means of identification.

These charge cards were used by various retail stores. Their typical design consists of the company name and/or logo of the company on the obverse and an incused serial, or account number, on the reverse. This continuing series will contain the various known Maryland Charge Coins and brief histories of the companies that used the coins.

Following the precedent established by other series in this journal, we will refer to these charge cards as MD-CC-(Number) for reference purposes, in case someone wishes to refer to one of these pieces in letters or conversations.

Bernhard Kohn, a German immigrant, came to Baltimore and established B. Kohn and Brother, a wholesale dry goods and notion business. Upon his death in 1891, his eldest son, Louis B. Kohn became head of the business. In 1897, Louis, his younger brother Benno and Max Hochschild, a local retail merchant, joined forces and opened Hochschild, Kohn and Company at Howard and Lexington Streets in Baltimore. Branch stores were opened in shopping centers around Baltimore during the 1940's and 1950's. The business was sold to Diversified Retaining in 1966 and then sold to its present owners, Supermarkets General Corporation in 1969. The original store at the downtown location was closed in 1977.

Note: The most significant difference between the two monogram dies is the top left hand loop of the letter H. MD-CC-1 & 1a the loop is partly closed, MD-CC-1b is not. The incused account numbers are not painted black as in other charge coins. The account numbers shown are those known by the author and editor and are listed to give a general idea of the quantity of each type. These pieces are not rare and obviously many other account numbers exist among fellow collectors.

The Gold Rush in California greatly increased the demand for canned goods. Ships sailing around the Horn demanded provisions that would survive the long voyage as well as being ready for sale on the California coast. By 1860 the railroad carried over three million pounds of oysters annually to the west. Canning operations were further stimulated by government orders during the Civil War. Baltimore brands supplied a national, European and Far East market. The oyster found its place everywhere and anywhere.

William F. Assau Canning Co. was established in 1905. They were located at 1715 Thames Street until 1912 when they moved to 2822 Boston Street where they stayed until 1940. There was also a factory on South Linwood Avenue.

They canned:

corn	succotash	spinach
peas	beets	turnip greens
tomatoes	pears	red kidney beans
green beans	cherries	okra
pumpkin & squash	berries (all kinds)	okra & tomatoes
hominy	Pork and beans	tomato juice

FROM THE EDITOR

Since Issue 6 of the journal, a new member specifies if he wishes his address published or not. Also in Issue 6, a request was made to existing members to notify the editor if they do not wish to have their addresses published.

To fulfill requests for a Membership Roster & Speciality list, I have included this list in this issue in place of the usual classified ads. Addresses have been deleted in this roster as requested by the members.

MARYLAND GOOD LUCK PIECES, ANYONE??

by A. Vernon Taylor MD TAMS LM-2

In issue #10, I began listing Maryland Good Luck Pieces. As a result of that article, Jane Sears sent me four more pieces to list. How about you! Do you have any to add to the list. Remember, this type of piece will not be in our forthcoming catalog, so, how about sending in your pieces for listing here.

The four pieces Jane sent in are Magic pieces and as such are listed in Bill Kuethe's catalog- TAMS JOURNAL, VOL. 18. No. 5. Oct. 1978, Part Two.

THE DICKEY TOKEN REVISITED

MILLARD W. HAJEK MD TAMS LM-1

A. VERNON TAYLOR MD TAMS LM-2

As a result of our article on the Dickey tokens and medals in the last issue of the journal, Ben Egerton and David Schenkman submitted information on additional varieties of the tokens used by the Dickey mills.

Two new varieties of the Ingle System 1914 reverse have been reported bringing to four the number of Ingle System reverse die varieties known. The two specimens are 1¢ values, 18mm with a larger "1" on obverse with no star at the bottom, no stars on the reverse design and a 1¢ value in brass with star on obverse but with a different reverse Ingle design.

Two other denominations were reported: A 5¢ value in brass, nickel plated, 19mm and a 10¢ value in brass, nickel plated, 21mm.

So, as we thought, values other than 1¢ do exist and most likely some higher values are out there somewhere. Keep your eyes open and drop us a line if you discover other unlisted pieces.
